

BILINGUAL CLASS PROJYECTS

In my first year I really liked the projects we did in the bilingual class, but the two I liked the most were the trip to the Week Camp in Asturias and the trip to the Altamira caves. The trip to the Week Camp was the funniest since we stayed for several days and did different activities. In addition, we also slept several people together in a wooden cabin. I had a great time. I liked the trip to the caves of Altamira less than the one of the Week Camp, but it was also great and I really liked the caves.

In my second year in the bilingual class, what I liked the most, because of the laughter we had, not because of how good it was because it was horrible was the performance of the theatre play The Canterville Ghost. It was very funny to see us in costumes. The second project I liked the most, was the Horror Story Contest. Although the story I wrote was bad, I had fun making it and then reading the others stories.

In my third year, what I liked the most was making “Guy Fawkes “ that has a sign on his chest that puts “a penny for the guy”. It was funny to make it.

This year, it is very clear what I liked the most, it was the trip to Malta. I had a great time and I learned new things. The other thing that I liked was the play Escape room, to tell the truth I only liked it because we could go the bilingual and non-bilingual classes mixed.

To summarize, I do recommend that you sign up for Bilingual because there are more advantages than disadvantages and apart from that, there are many more trips.
